We Dedicate To

WILLIAM MARVIN GREEN, our friend and advisor, whose death the students and faculty of Amon Carter Riverside deeply mourn, this, the 1947 EAGLE. He, as superintendent of our schools, devoted his life to the well being of the young people of school age of Fort Worth. His memory will be cherished in the lives and deeds of those whom he helped.

DAN DODSON

. . . a true friend to all his classmates, whose quiet manner, ability and willingness to cooperate endeared him to all his teachers.

United States Reserve Officers Training Corps

LT. COL. JAMES BALLARD
Professor Military Science and Tactics

▪ Military training in the Fort Worth schools was reorganized this year to give each cadet a wider knowledge of military procedure and modern weapons of warfare — and more credit toward graduation. The city program was initiated by Lieutenant Colonel Ballard and carried at Carter by Captain Thorne and Technical Sergeant Singletary.

1947 Eagle Cheer Leaders

James Johnston, Shirley Taggart, Billy Jackson, Barbara Boyle, Miss Katharine Officer, sponsor, Charles Akey, Betty Reeves, Marvin Russell, Lloyddean Crawford.

Here are the leaders of the 1946-47 fighting school spirit. They were elected in the spring of '46 and were active in the football games thereafter except for Goose Creek which was an out of town game. The loyal student body of CHS bought yell books and ribbons to help send these red and blue clad supporters to Beaumont.

Activities increased in number as the season progressed. Our cheer leaders visited other schools, and their pep rallies to further the BRO. Many were the distinguished guests that attended our pep rallies. There were cheer leaders from other schools, outstanding figures from the School Board, and last but not least, three clowns from the Shrine Circus. One bonfire was held to climax the season.

They ended the successful football season by attending two of North Side's state play off pep rallies to add our fighting spirit to theirs.

To this group of men, the coaching staff of the Eagles, we are greatly indebted. Under their able leadership and guidance both the "A" and "B" squads were molded. Coach Pegram left at mid term to coach at Arlington Heights High School. He was replaced by Coach Truett Cooper from that school.

September 20—Opening the 1946 grid season, Carter's Eagles invaded South Texas to battle the Robert E. Lee Ganders of Goose Creek. In a high geared offensive duel, Coach Lowe's determined forces rallied to overtake the favored Ganders in the final period to gain a 20-20 deadlock.

September 27—The Eagles were host to Forest Avenue's gridders of Dallas. Bill McPherson's top-notch passing, Sam Adams' long-distance punting and the strong defensive play of Carter's forward wall collaborated to send the Dallas congregation back home suffering a 13-0 setback.

October 5—Milby's powerhouse from Houston caught the Riversiders on an "off" night when they just couldn't seem to "click" and triumphed, 32-7.

October 11—In their initial district clash, opposing the Arlington Heights Yellow Jackets, Carter uncorked a 36-yard pass play from McPherson to Adams that proved good for six points and the margin of victory. The final chalk-up read Carter 7, Jackets 0.

October 18—Saw a never-give-up Eagle "11" pay no heed to pre-game press statistics which predicted North Side to win by three touchdowns, and battled stubbornly only to lose a heartbreaker 8-7. Just one break in the Eagles' favor and it might have been a different story. For the Eagles, McPherson's passing might stole the spotlight.

Eagles

October 31—Carter racked up 40 points in the first half, then settled back and coasted to a 48-7 trampling of Technical. The Eagles unleashed a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage, scoring on McPherson's aerial to Adams that covered 71 yards against the Bulldogs.

November 8—In a game much closer than the score indicates, bad breaks, combined with a stout Paschal pass defense, got the upper hand of Carter's Lowe coached Eagles, 15-0. In the final minutes, Paschal intercepted two desperate Carter aerals in the shadow of the Eagles' goal, to set up the scores.

November 15—Capitalizing on Arthur Murrell's 38-yard intercepted pass return to the Beaumont 10, Carter turned its second road jaunt of the season into a success by tripping Beaumont High's eleven, 7-0.

November 22—Sparked by the one-two punch of Don Hunt's running and Bill McPherson's passing, Carter Riverside closed out its 1946 grid season in a formidable fashion, trouncing Poly, 20-7. This was perhaps Carter's finest performance of the season as the Eagles offense functioned smoothly and its defensive line play hardly punctured.

Carter's total box score stands: A tie with Paschal for second place; five games won; three games lost; and one tie, the Eagles marked up 129 points while holding their opponents to 83.

Two Eagles, McPherson and Adams, gained berths on the all district team for their outstanding performances rendered on the grid field. Bob Bates, Hunt and Bogart landed positions on the second team.

At the close of the season, Charles Bogart, Sam Adams and Bill McPherson were elected tri-captains. These three led the Eagles all year through victory and defeat with inspired spirit, ability and consistent playing.

Journalism Students Attend Convention

Three Carter delegates will carry the Eagle Record into state competition at the Texas High School Press Association Convention, gathering at Texas State College for Women for a three-day convention, December 5, 6 and 7. The convention is held annually at the college for representatives of the leading high school newspapers of the state.

The Carter trio who will go to Denton are: Pat Thrasher, Billy Joe Carroll and Bill Camfield. Bill will address the assembly Saturday morning, December 7, on "Publicity and the School Newspaper."

A dance and party Thursday night of the 5th will open registration of the delegates and the convention will meet first for business at 9 o'clock the following morning. Meetings and discussions will be held throughout the day and Friday's activities are climaxed by a banquet-dance in the college hall that evening.

Majority to Observe Festivities at Home

Ways and means of celebrating this year's edition of Turkey Day was the topic of discussion at most of the lunch-time and between period gatherings of Carter's teachers this week. With the holidays set for November 28-December 2, those who are planning trips were getting the wardrobe in order, and others who plan a celebration at home were searching the shops for a suitable turkey.

Fourteen out of town trips are planned by the faculty, the farthest being the proposed deer hunt planned by Mrs. Adele Perkins, girls' physical education instructor, and her husband into the hills of New Mexico. Mrs. Georgia Willis, history teacher, and her husband will try out their new Studebaker on the road to San Antonio.

Miss Glonda Claiborne of the Spanish department plans a trip home to Greenville, Texas. Mrs. Alma Emsis, librarian, will spend her holidays with her daughter in Sanger, Texas, while at her auditorium. An old Indian legend forms the background for Sacred Birds. The story goes like this—Once there was a season of drought and starvation for this Indian tribe. The chief's son went hunting for food, and even though he found these birds, he would not kill them, because they were considered sacred. This decision pleased the gods and they sent rain. The buffaloes returned and the Indians prospered again.

Mr. Arion G. Carter Jr. brought the camera to the school Friday morning, November 15. The camera cost approximately $542, and it takes sound as well as motion. The elder Mr. Carter offered to buy a projector for the school, but the P-TA had already purchased one.

A 10'x12' screen has been ordered for Carter by the school board, but can not be delivered immediately.
